5th June 2008

Dear Parents,

We are reviewing our stock of educational board games that we use in the classrooms, particularly at breaks on wet days. Before we purchase some more, if you have any such games at home that are lying idle we would gladly make use of them provided (a) they are suitable and (b) the game is in good condition and not missing any pieces etc. If you do have any such games please send them in to the office by next Monday. Thank you.

We are preparing for the purchase of our first interactive whiteboard which some of you will have seen demonstrated during the year. We expect to have it up and running early in the coming school year.

Many thanks to you all for coming to the school to see the children demonstrate their science experiments recently. Photos are available on the school website.

We have noticed on occasion during the year that some of you allow younger children to wander into the school grounds, run around and sometimes even walk on the wall near the school gate. Please make sure that if you are in charge of children that you make sure they are behaving in an orderly manner. Thank you.

Book lists and school reports will be issued before the end of this month. No payments will be necessary until the new school year but when the time comes please pay separately for each child to the appropriate teacher if at all possible. Thanks in advance.

There will be a staff meeting on Wednesday next (11th June) so all pupils will finish at 2 p.m. on that day.

Because of voting in the referendum on Thursday, 12th June, the school will be closed on that day. I urge you to show your children that democracy is something of real importance by bringing them with you when you vote.

We are holding a no uniform day on Friday, 13th June. We have decided in partnership with the Parents Association to ask each child to bring a minimum of 50c which will be donated to the Burma emergency appeal. Thank you.

If you have a book rental form that you have not returned please do so immediately.

School will close for the summer holidays on Thursday, 26th June.

Yours faithfully,

Principal
